Communication skills

- Excellent communication skills gained through my experience as a professional handball player since childhood up to teenager. I was often the play coordinator in our team and I succeeded in doing my job properly in a timely manner.
- I continued to develop my communication skills through my experience as a referee, where I was also supposed to make quick decisions and to communicate them on the spot, concise and clear.

Organisational / managerial skills

- I am a good team player and I have outstanding coordination skills. I used to play handball at the professional level for almost ten years. Among my main responsibilities I had to organize and lead the defence, while sometimes I also had to coordinate our attacks.
- Later on I become a professional handball referee, where it was also vital to work in a team and sometimes to coordinate that team.

Job-related skills

- I have no other experience as I am only 19 and I haven't finished nor interrupted my studies. I interrupted my activity in handball playing and refereeing only because of my busy schedule during the last school year with graduation and university admission.
